

Four Lee Co. Youths Volunteer for Service

The above four Lee county youths, who enlisted in the nation's armed forces at the Dixon army recruiting station this week, were sent to Chicago Wednesday by Sergeant Crozier, recruiting officer, for induction. Left to right they are: Howard Thurber, 19, Dixon route 2; August H. Fraza, 21, 505 First avenue, Dixon; Owen L. Young, 20, 701 East Graham street, Dixon; and Eugene E. Gorton, 21, Franklin Grove.

Mrs. Dilling Pleads Not Guilty; Seeking Hearing in Chicago

Two of 28 indicted in Washington still at large this morn

Chicago, July 24.—(AP)—Mrs. Elizabeth Dilling, author of "The Red Network," pleaded innocent yesterday to an indictment charging her and 27 other persons with conspiracy to break down the morale of United States armed forces.

U. S. Commissioner Edwin K. Walker set July 29 for hearing of her case and she posted bond of $5,000.

Two other Chicagoans named in the indictment opened in Washington yesterday also pleaded innocent and their hearings were set for the same date. They are George Otto Brennerman, alias Otto Brennermann, an artist, and Donald Judson McDaniel, a dentist.

Mrs. Dilling, accompanied by her husband, Albert W. Dilling, with whom she recently had divorced, and her daughter, Elizabeth Jane, 16, listened to the charges and said:

"I am absolutely not guilty. I am not represented by counsel, but I would like to make a plea that this case be tried here in my own district."

At that her husband, calling attention to his standing as a member of the bar, said "I would like to pinch hit as Mrs. Dilling's attorney. She is entitled to a hearing before being taken to Washington for trial."

"I keep house," the foe of communism interrupted. "I wouldn't be able to look after my family I were in Washington."

TWO ARE SOUGHT

New York, July 24.—(AP)—Col. Eugene Nelson Sanctuary, U. S. Army reserve, one of 28 persons indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of conspiring to break down morale in the armed forces, has been arrested and is awaiting removal to Washington.

A removal hearing probably will be held late today, it was said. U. S. Marshal James E. Mulcahy could give no details but it was learned Sanctuary was arrested at his Manhattan home.

William Griffin, editor and publisher of the New York Enquirer, and Edward James Smythe, chairman of the executive committee of the Protestant War Veterans Association, also named in the Washington indictment, still were being sought.

The indictment charges that the 28 defendants conspired to urge upon members of the U. S. armed forces that the United States forces were ineffectual, the United States was safe from attack and that confidence in American public officials was misplaced and unwarranted "for the purpose of conducting, and designed and intended to impede, obstruct and defeat the preparation of our national defense against aggression and invasion and the national war effort."

SUSPECT ARRESTED

Cincinnati, July 24.—(AP)—Emmett D. Kirgan, chief of detectives, said today he was investigating the possibility a man held might be an accomplice of the and of alleged German saboteurs recently landed by submarines along the east coast.

The man, arrested yesterday on drunkenness charge, was quoted as Kirgan as saying he deserted U. S. army a month ago at St. Slocum, N. Y. He had $542 cash when seized by police, a bank book from a Welch, W. Va., bank showing deposits of more than $6,000, which he attempted to mutilate.

Kirgan said cancelled checks in amounts varying from $10 and $20 to $250 were found in his possession.

The War Today!

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst
(Telegraph Special Service)

Secretary of State Hull's constructive program for a better world after the carnage has ended must be recorded as one of the major developments of the war. Anomalous though it may seem to talk about peace problems at the moment when vast armies are locked in a death struggle to determine the course of the conflict, yet this is precisely the time when it may be most beneficial. Hull's great document, in which we have a mingling of the spiritual and political, reaches out in four directions:

It is a pillar of fire for the allied peoples as they march for victory. It affords encouragement to the enslaved peoples of the occupied countries. It rebukes neutrals for their "absurd and suicidal" policy. And last, but certainly not least, it may in due course provide the impulse for the populations of enemy countries to abandon their support of a barbaric aggression for which many of them have had little heart.

The soft-spoken gentleman from Tennessee has brought a wealth of humanity to his historic task. He remains the evangelical prophet who for so many years tried to persuade Europe that it was headed for war; and he still, so to speak, carries his duelling pistols in his tail pockets, for he has mixed charity with firmness.

There are many facets to this new-world diamond which will blaze so brightly when the light of peace is turned upon it. We are to build for "human freedom and Christian morality." And at long last Hull may get a chance to see the removal of international trade barriers which he so patiently and persistently has advocated as essential to the economic security of mankind. But perhaps the point which will attract most attention is the provision for an international agency to keep the peace "by force, if necessary" for that represents the teeth in any measure of reform. Without an agency which can compel peace, we shall get a repetition of the tragedy of the marble palace on the shore of Lake Geneva.

Hull doesn't specify the nature of the agency, but the trend of events leads one to envisage a post-war world.

Subterfuge

Hackmensenack, N. J., July 24.—(AP)—Prosecutor John J. Breslin, Jr., said today that James A. Boyd, 59, had admitted that he faked a story of killing R. Norman Redwood, business agent of a sandhog union, at Teaneck in 1937, in an effort to get a free ride east.

"So far as I am concerned, Boyd's case is closed," declared Breslin after a telephone conversation with Detective Lieut. Theodore Morgan of the Teaneck police. Morgan questioned Boyd in San Francisco yesterday.

Army Pilot Reports on Perilous Adventure in Southwest Pacific

Melbourne, Australia, July 24.—(AP)—Snake-bitten 3,000 feet in the air, U. S. Army Lieut. Robert Vaught, 24, of Johnson City, Tenn., gave this report on a perilous adventure recently aloft and aground:

While flying 75 miles from his base, Vaught noticed a peculiarly-marked snake near his left foot. He put the plane into a slip to try to slide the snake into a corner, but when he touched the rudder bar the snake struck him twice. Vaught then seized the snake and threw it out.

Almost immediately he began to feel so ill that he made a forced landing in a dry swamp. After fainting several times, he dragged himself to a water hole where he put a tourniquet on his badly-swollen leg and made a mud pack which relieved the pain somewhat. That night he had to fire his machine-guns to drive off wild buffaloes.

Next day, Vaught fitted a piece of wood to the left rudder pedal so he could operate it by hand. He made a successful takeoff and returned to his base.

After a period in a hospital, he now has rejoined his squadron.

Soldier's Life on Aleutian Front Is Tough, Dangerous

Keith Wheeler Writes of 3,000 Mile Trip Along Battleline to Kiska

BY KEITH WHEELER (Copyright, 1942,
By Chicago Times, Inc.)
Somewhere in Alaska (Delayed)
—This is the record of a 10-day 3,000 mile trip out along the Aleutian battlefront to Kiska island and return.

Essentially it is the record of a personal adventure and is told as such because Americans are living and fighting in the Aleutians—and the Aleutians are American soil. They are fighting and dying there to stop an invader who, they firmly believe, is bent on conquest of the United States itself.

They lead as brutally hard, cheerless and dangerous a life as man can. They have pared living down to its essentials—and these do not include baths, clean clothes or beds to sleep in. They sleep and eat—when such necessary luxuries are available—in tents and burrows in the soggy tundra. They fight in airplanes, flying in weather that at its mildest would keep any peacetime plane nailed to the ground.

The islands they cling to are desolate and savage—a flinty wilderness of mile-high, perpetually snow-capped peaks that reach through the endless fogs like hungry fangs seeking to crush the planes.

The trip began from a nameless base on the southern shore of the great peninsula. Only one reference point will be named here.

Reich Is Pinched for Shipping Room

LONDON, July 24.—(AP)—Germany, pinched for shipping space after almost three years of war, has started a campaign to salvage vessels sunk along the European coast and is pushing a program for construction of standardized merchantmen similar to the American "Liberty ships," British sources declared today.

The situation facing the reich is reflected in official British reports that, of the 9,000,000 tons of merchant shipping with which Germany and Italy started the war, 5,250,000 tons had been sent to the bottom prior to last December.

While British and United States navies have virtually throttled Germany's overseas commerce, she is struggling tremendously to maintain vital supply lines in European waters.

In the Baltic, German freighters are moving iron ore from Lulea, Sweden, to north German ports and supplying Nazi troops in Russia and their Finnish allies. With Soviet submarines on the loose in the Baltic this is becoming a hazardous job.

In the Mediterranean, Germany is largely dependent upon Italian sources.

WAR IN CHINA

Chungking, July 24.—(AP)—Heavy casualties have been inflicted upon the Japanese in fighting spread over three provinces, and two points near Lishui, Japanese-held air base in southeastern Chekiang, have been recaptured. The Chinese high command announced today.

Some of the heaviest losses were said to have been suffered by the Japanese in Chinese attempts to retake Kweiiki, a point on the Chekiang-Kiangsi railway, a short stretch of which the Chinese have recaptured.

To the north, in southeastern Shansi province, the communists said, half of a Japanese column was wiped out after being cut off west of Lingchuan.

Showdown Near on Rostov Front

Jap Occupation of Newly-Seized Base in Guinea Is Costly

Allied Airmen Exa Heavy Toll; Get 3 Enemy Transports

General MacArthur's Headquarters, Australia, July 24.—(AP)—Before the Japanese could settle down in their newly-seized base on the southeast coast of New Guinea allied airmen went to work on them yesterday, knocking out the third transport in three days destroying shore installations and forcing frenzied invasion troops to leap wildly overboard from landing barges.

But despite the heavy cost the enemy went ahead with operations in the Gona Mission-Buna area, where a toe-hold was gained Wednesday, and a military spokesman indicated another small sea-borne Japanese force had been put ashore at Ambasi, 30 miles up the Papua peninsula coast from Buna.

Allied dive-bombers, used for the first time against land targets in New Guinea, and medium bombers made five separate raids on the Gona Mission-Buna area and a headquarters communicate said they started numerous fires.

A 5,000-ton fuel-laden transport was caught squarely amidship and set afire. Previously two other transports were hit, and one of them sunk as the cruiser and destroyer-protected Japanese convoy moved down the coast from Japanese-held Salamaua.

Hurl Selves Into Sea

Allied fighters joined yesterday's attacks, skimming just above the whitecaps to spray deadly machinegun bursts into troop-jammed landing barges and the pilots related that panic-stricken soldiers hurled themselves into the water to escape their fire.

Gona Mission, where the Japanese set up their first base on the Papua peninsula, is a small settlement built around an Anglican mission.

Port Moresby, allied base held by American and Australian troops, is 110 miles across the mountainous, jungle-ridden peninsula.

Seven American and Australian crewmen of an allied bomber which sank one 10,000-ton Japanese transport a quarter of a mile off the beach at Buna said they first sighted two 10,000-ton transports escorted by destroyers headed for the Buna area Tuesday.

Forced to Return

They were forced to return to their base, but went back Wednesday morning and found the Japanese already landing troops and equipment in barges.

The first stick of bombs scored near misses around the destroyers. On the second run, a stick of bombs was placed across the transport. Barges alongside the ship seemed to erupt and disappear. Others blazed fiercely. The transport sank by the stern.

Other barges headed for shore were bombed and tiny figures of Japanese could be seen flying into the air. Others dived into the sea on all sides.

HON. C. WAYLAND BROOKS

Senator Brooks plans to arrive at the park at about 6:30 o'clock and spend some time visiting friends.

Fisher Turns Out General Lee Tanks in Trainload Lots

Detroit, July 24.—(AP)—General Motors Corporation disclosed today with war department approval that the new Army tank plant built by its Fisher body division has been completed and is rolling out the all-welded M-4 type of land dreadnaught in trainload quantities.

Lines of freight cars loaded with tanks wrapped in protective covering now leave the plant on a special track almost daily, the announcement said.

When the United States entered the war, the welded M-4 tank was only in a blueprint stage. In January Fisher body received a contract to build the new type of battle wagon, and although the first tank was not scheduled to be built until the new plant was completed, engineers went to work immediately in another factory. The first of the M-4's was turned out in 47 days. By the time the new plant was finished large numbers of the new tanks had been started on their way to the battle front.

Called "Gen. Lees"

The M-4's are designated "General Lees" by the British, the war department in Washington said, and some have already seen action on the Egyptian battlefield. The tanks are 28 to 30-ton machines, about the same size as the "General Grants".

Among the principal developments in the M-4 tank over its predecessors is increased fire power and improved location of the 75MM gun in a turret that revolves in a complete circle. In addition it is highly maneuverable and is protected by a tough hide of heavy armor plate.

It was at this tank plant, at Grand Blanc, Mich., where a strike recently delayed work.

Meat Shortage of Concern to Govt.

Washington, July 24.—(AP)—Officials expressed confidence today that a combination price adjustment and subsidy program to be inaugurated by the agricultural department next week would help alleviate a seasonal shortage of pork in the east and parts of the country distant from the major producing areas.

Shortages, said these officials, who declined to be quoted by name, reflected a small supply of livestock moving to market at this time and a demand for large quantities of pork for lend-lease shipments. The situation was accentuated by the fact, they said, that under OPA's price ceilings for meat, the government was paying 1½ cents a pound more for supplies for lend-lease than prices prevailing in domestic markets.

This situation, they explained, caused packers supplying lend-lease orders to bid up hog prices to a point where small packers supplying the domestic market could not compete except at a financial loss.

The department's program is designed to bring about a better adjustment in prices paid for lend-lease purchases and domestic prices prevailing for the domestic market. This adjustment will be sought by reducing the price to be paid for lend-lease shipments. The re-

Steel Program, Long Distance Trucking Cut

Washington, July 24.—(AP)—War measures announced last night included approval of a ten per cent cut in the steel expansion program because of shortage of materials to develop mines and build furnaces, and an order further restricting long distance trucking. Beginning Aug. 1, truckers are required to cut their total mileage by 25 per cent as compared with the same month last year.

U. S. Calls for All Lovers of Freedom to Help Whip Axis

Plea Made by Secretary of State Hull Over Radio Last Eve

Washington, July 24.—(AP)—The United States is calling on all peoples who hope to keep their freedom, regain lost freedom or win new freedom to help defeat the axis now.

Secretary of State Hull sounded the call last night in an address shortwaved to all countries—friends, foes, defeated nations and those still listed as rigidly neutral. He stressed that the conflict now raging is "not a war of nation against nation" but a worldwide fight by those who love freedom against would-be conquerors who seek to enslave all mankind.

Characterizing professions of neutrality in such a conflict as "absurd and suicidal," he pictured the worldwide war as a test of the caliber of nations and individuals.

"There is no surer way," he said, "for men and for nations to show themselves unworthy of liberty than, by supine submission and refusal to fight, to render more difficult the task of those who are fighting for the preservation of human freedom—unless it be to align themselves freely and voluntarily with the destroyers of liberty."

Then, in a sentence apparently aimed at the military helplessness of axis-occupied countries, he added:

"There is no surer way for men and nations to show themselves worthy of liberty than to fight for its preservation, in any way that is open to them, against those who would destroy it all."

India Unmentioned

Without specifically mentioning the acute tension in India over nationalist leaders' insistence on immediate independence, Hull said:

"We have always believed—and we believe today—that all peoples, without distinction of race, color, or religion, who are prepared and willing to accept the responsibilities of liberty, are entitled to its enjoyment."

The full measure of American influence, he added significantly, will be used to support attainment of freedom by "peoples who, by their acts, show themselves worthy of it and ready for it."

Those who think the short-cut to freedom lies in cooperation with Hitler or the Japanese warlords,

Illinois Soldiers Aren't Required to Register for Vote

Springfield, Ill., July 24.—(AP)—Thousands of Illinois men in the armed services may vote by absentee ballot in the November election without registering under the state's new permanent registration law.

That was the reply being given today by Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes to inquiries from service men and county officials.

Hughes interpreted the 1941 permanent registration act to exempt service men who must, however, submit an affidavit of their service status to the county clerk when they vote by mail.

Election officials in the secretary of state's office outlined this procedure for men in the Army and Navy who want to mark an absentee ballot for the Nov. 3 election:

Must Get Application

Application form for an absent voter's ballot must first be obtained from the county clerk of the voter's home county, or from the chief clerk of the election commission in the case of service men living in cities having election commissions. The last day for filing such an application is Oct. 29, but in most cases application should be made much earlier to allow time for marking and returning by mail before election day.

The application for ballot must be filled out and returned to the election official, who then forwards a ballot.

Service men may mark ballots in the presence of a superior officer, who certifies its validity; such ballots do not require a notary seal.

The marked ballot must be back in the hands of the county clerk, or the election commission, by election day, Nov. 3.

State election officials said uncertainties of overseas mailing undoubtedly would reduce the number of service men voting from military establishments outside the United States.

Courtship May Cost Man Flying Privilege

Ebensburg, Pa., July 24.—(AP)—Nineteen-year-old Arthur Evans' courtship may cost him his flying privileges.

A railroad engineer saw a tiny parachute floating earthward, stopped his train and called police. Civilian defense patrols, prepared for the worst, were on hand when it landed.

Attached to the chute was a note, informing the flier's girl friend: "Will be down to see you tonight."

State police unromantically said dropping an object from a plane was illegal and recommended to the Civil Aeronautics Authority that Evans be grounded.

Baltimore, July 24.—(AP)—The Third Service Command announced today that investigations of reported parachute landings at six locations in this region yesterday had resulted in "no substantiation whatsoever."

Missouri Osteopath Faces Trial for Death of Spouse

Keytesville, Mo., July 24.—(AP)—A Chariton county grand jury, convened by Circuit Judge G. D. Green, will inquire into the possibility of perjury in the second trial of Dr. W. F. Lamance, a Clade osteopath charged with the slaying of his wife in 1933.

George Robertson, prosecuting attorney, said today that "certain of the witnesses had very poor memories or only slight regard for their oaths to speak the truth on the witness stand."

Lamance, 35, once was convicted on a charge of second degree murder but was granted a new trial by the state Supreme court. The second trial, last April, resulted in a hung jury. The case now is set for the September term of the Circuit court.

Russian Forces in Last Ditch Stand To Save Caucasus

Finland Suggests U. S. Take Her Out of Der Fuehrer's Camp

By CLYDE A. FARNSWORTH
Associated Press War Editor
Germany proclaimed today that Rostov had been stormed and captured, although not yet mopped up, and Moscow reported that unprecedented numbers of United States-built planes—especially Douglas Boston bombers—had taken to the Caucasus skies to bolster Russia's fight for life.

It seemed obvious to observers both in Moscow and London that the Russians, with strong forces in depth, were preparing for a showdown in the Caucasus fight along the Don or to the south.

Meanwhile, Finland was circulating a veiled suggestion that the United States might take her out of the Hitler camp, where she stands to gain little even in event of German victory and to lose much if the United Nations win.

By broadcasting a Stockholm newspaper editorial with their own explanatory comment the Finns urged the United States to elucidate its position on protection of such countries as Finland in the event of "a Bolshevik-dictated peace."

The broadcast repeated Helsinki press statements that Finnish forces had consolidated their defenses and now merely stand "stationary guard against the enemy."

May Be Action Zone

The prospect of a limited allied offensive in Europe to divert German pressure from Russia and also safeguard communications with Russia has emerged predominantly in second front speculation and northernmost Norway and Finland would seem to fill these specifications as a zone of action.

The Hitler command announced today capture of Rostov, capital of the northern Caucasus, on the main railway and pipeline which tap the oil and mineral wealth of the deep Caucasus, and the Russians, while not acknowledging the claim, said the battle had reached the city gates.

Quickly the Germans followed this up with an announcement that resistance by fresh Russian troops within the Don bend had been broken.

Take Last Ditch Stand

Moscow dispatches said, however, that Red armies had taken a last ditch stand on the lower Don and were developing a flank attack against the east wing of the German lodgement in the Tsimly-day.

The Christian Church

W. Harold Wiltz, minister

The business meeting of the church, scheduled for last Sunday morning, was postponed because of insufficient publicity and the resulting lack of representative congregation. The meeting will be held this Sunday, however, at the regular church hour of 9:30. There will be a devotional service and communion which will be followed by the business session. The adoption of a constitution and by-laws for the church is the main order of business. The church school classes will assemble immediately after the business meeting. Dismissal will be at the usual time of 11:15.

The Philathea class meets on Monday evening.

There will be no junior choir practice this week. The Young People's class will have a business meeting Thursday at 7 p. m. at Sara Jane Time's home, after which skating will be enjoyed at the rink. The high school class will join them in this activity.

Pastor Neumann for the past nine and one-half years has served in the pulpit at Immanuel and St. John's Lutheran churches in the Lake Geneva parish. In addition to his pastoral work, the new minister was also active in civic affairs, giving aid to many worthy enterprises. He was a member of the Y. M. C. A. board for several years and chairman of the Red Cross for two years.

Before going to Lake Geneva in 1932, Pastor Neumann had served as minister in the Grace Lutheran church at Gary, Ind., for a period of four years. Prior to 1928 he had been student pastor in the Good Shepherd Lutheran church in Chicago and in Salem Lutheran church in McConnell.

A graduate of the Burlington, Iowa, high school in 1919, Pastor Neumann entered Carthage college and received his A. B. degree in 1923. From there he went to study at the Chicago Lutheran Seminary from which he graduated with a B. D. degree in 1926. On May 16, 1926, he was ordained into the ministry by the Wartburg Synod in Burlington, Iowa.

Church offices which he has held have been: Life Service Secretary of the Luther League of Illinois for four years, Secretary of the Wartburg Synod for five years, and treasurer of the Long Lake summer school for eight years. During his high school and college years he was active in athletics, serving as captain of the Carthage college football team in 1920 and the all-conference center in 1922.

Pastor Neumann followed in his father's footsteps when he took up work in the ministry as did his brother, the Rev. K. Bruno Neumann, pastor of Grace Lutheran church in Peoria. His parents, Dr. and Mrs. R. Neumann live in Carthage where Dr. Neumann is a professor at Carthage college.

Mrs. Arthur Neumann was Katharine Jensen of Chicago before her marriage in 1927. Her father, Dr. F. E. Jensen serves as pastor of Mt. Zion Lutheran church in Chicago and her brother, Samuel, maintains a pastorate at the Bluffs, Ill., parish. The Neumanns have one son, Daniel, age 12, and two daughters, Mary Louise, age 8, and Phyllis, age 6.

V-Mail Service

Mrs. George McBride, our local postmaster, has received a supply of the new V-mail service forms. The V-mail service will be available for the transmission of letters without enclosures to and from the armed forces, only outside the continental United States. It has been devised to reduce the weight and bulk of mail to and from the armed forces abroad. It will also make more available better transportation of vital war materials. A special V-mail letter sheet has been designed for this type of communication. These letter sheets are a combination letter and envelope; each is a sheet of stationery of a standard medium weight, grain and grade, which is so constructed and gummed as to fold into a uniform and distinctively marked envelope. The message and address must be typewritten with dark ink or dark pencil. Nothing may be enclosed with the message. To further expedite this V-mail service destined overseas, or for the armed forces overseas to the continental United States, there will be inaugurated a photographic micro-filming facility in conjunction with the V-mail service. The original of each V-mail letter so filmed will be retained by the military authorities until it has been ascertained that the film has reached its destination. If the film fails to arrive at its destination the V-mail station will re-film the letters and dispatch another film. In this fashion the filmed letters are given all possible assurance of reaching their destination notwithstanding the transportation hazards.

OREGON GARDEN IS TO BE SETTING FOR WEDDING OF MARY LOUISE HOLM, TODAY

Pink and white gladioli and white larkspur will form the setting for a garden wedding this afternoon, in which Miss Mary Louise Holm, daughter of Mrs. Ruth C. Holm of Oregon, will exchange vows with Robert James Hardesty of Davenport, Ia., son of the Fred Hardesty of Oregon. The Rev. J. E. Dale, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church of Oregon, will perform the ceremony at 5:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother.

Nuptial musicians will include Mary Louise's aunt, Mrs. G. Philip Holm of Rockford, pianist; George Smith of Oregon and Ralph Hudson of Mount Morris, violinists; and the Misses Phyllis Braid and Loraine Crandall of Rockford, vocalists, who were classmates of the young bride at Rockford college.

Phyllis and Loraine will sing two selections, Cadman's "At Dawning" and "I Love Thee" (Grieg), and the string trio will play the wedding marches.

Today's bride will be wearing a white satin wedding dress, fashioned on the lines of the gown worn by her mother as a bride. Her long veil will be caught to a white lace cap, and she will carry a bouquet of white roses and maiden-hair fern. Fred Rundquist of Rockford will give his niece in marriage.

Mrs. Burton Haas of Oregon, as her sister's matron of honor, will wear white and orchid mouseline de soie, and carry a quaint bouquet of cornflowers. A cluster of cornflowers will also be fastened in her hair.

The Misses Harriett Snyder and Arlene Snodgrass, schoolmates of the bride at Oregon high school, will be bridesmaids, and will be dressed in blue mouseline de soie. They will carry similar bouquets, and will have flowers in their hair.

Lynne Chaffee of Elmwood Park, niece of the bridegroom, will be flower girl, and will wear blue organza with cornflowers in her hair. Dick Haas of Oregon, Mary Louise's nephew, will carry the ring on a satin pillow, and will wear a white satin suit. Charles Koonz of Oregon, will serve his former Oregon high school classmate as best man.

Mrs. Holm will be attired in a figured sheer frock with a shoulder corsage of yellow rosebuds for her daughter's wedding and the garden reception which is to follow. Mrs. Hardesty will be wearing a similar shoulder bouquet with her periwinkle chiffon dress.

Assisting with the serving at the reception will be the Misses Dorothy and Joan Pottinger and Kaye Rundquist of Rockford, cousins of the bride, the Misses Shirley Madson, Alice Countryman, and Margaret Paulson of Rockford, college classmates of the bride, and the Misses Leonore Dale and Marilyn Michael of Oregon.

When the young bridal pair leave later for a brief wedding trip, the new Mrs. Hardesty will wear a brown and yellow broadcloth dress with a brown linen coat. At her shoulder will be a spray of yellow rosebuds and cornflowers. The couple will reside at 1019 Perry street, Davenport.

Both Mary Louise and Bob were graduated from Oregon high school. After her graduation, she attended Rockford college for two years, and was a member of the class of 1944. She was majoring in music at the college and was a member of Alpha Theta, honorary music society. The bridegroom is employed at the Rock Island arsenal.

'Glamor Girls' Won't Recognize Cosmetic Counters These Days

By ALICIA HART

Some of the nicest things on the cosmetic counters just now are designed to foster feminine attractiveness in ways that are powerful strange to the ways of pre-war glamor.

There is, for instance, smelling salts! Imagine the smart woman whose ideal was the hot heroine of 1930's movies wanting smelling salts. Grandma stuff, she'd have said. However, now when the smart woman's idea is the "vital woman" of the home front sky patrol, or the gun factory or the WAAC, she wants something more practical than a cocktail to pick up her late-afternoon spirits.

Revives Tired Nerves

At least that's the way the cosmetic manufacturer figures. He offers therefore an "olfactory cocktail." Not top-of-your-head salts such as brought Grandma out of a swoon. But a spicy reviver to relax overworked nerves. It comes in a bottle—non-prioritized glass and wooden cap.

Similarly, the perfumer known around the world for his "wicked" heavy perfumes now stresses his blessedly cooling "feel extravagant without being extravagant" colognes which convey freshness and vigor—frosted pine, for instance.

Tang is the important quality in a brand new cologne by a manufacturer who seeks to make you "vivid and arresting." There is a toilet water, for dainty and slightly sentimental occasions, a triple extract for important ones. All are in authentic, hand-painted replicas of old American apothecaries' jars.

A new summer makeup, powder and powder rouge, is presented for "extra confidence" about a nose that tends to shine in strenuous summer work and play. The makeup is moisture-resistant.

To protect war-effort hands, a chemical house comes into drug stores with an invisible glove. The non-greasy mixture is designed to keep skin clean—hands, arms, fingertips under exposure to those hard-work hazards, grime and stains.

These Gloves are "Invisible"

Another cosmetic stocking comes up practically every week. One new kind offers the fastidious woman not only variety of color, and lasting won't-rub-off finish for a bare leg, but also a pleasant fragrance. Another boasts a stocking-top and reinforced heel—the illusion of which is produced with a special gadget.

IN NAVY CHOIR

Robert Calhoun of Ashton, who enlisted in the United States navy last week and began training at the Great Lakes Naval Training station, has been accepted for membership in the noted Great Lakes choir of 200 voices. The choir and the Great Lakes band will participate in the Chicago and Music Festival, Aug. 15, at Soldiers' Field.

The choir is directed by Chaplain Hjalmar H. Hanson, whose work is never done. With recruits streaming through Great Lakes by the thousands, he has each singer only five weeks. But in five weeks, Chaplain Hanson trains his 200 singers to such a degree of excellence that only an expert can criticize them. Then overnight, they are all gone, and he must start over with a new choir.

He began his present choir last week at the same time Bob was accepted. By festival night, the singers will be spending their final period at Great Lakes, and it will mean that Chaplain Hanson will have them trained to near perfection.

KEITH REYNOLDS CLAIMS BRIDE

Dr. Sauder was assisted by the bride's father, who is pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Detroit, Mich., in performing the ceremony.

The couple are residing at Lawrenceburg, Ind., where the bridegroom has been employed for some time.

ROCHELLE GIRL TO BE BRIDE

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Harris of Esmond, Ill., are making known the approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Irene Harris of Rochelle, Ill., and Wilbur C. Scott of Washington, D. C., son of the Carl Scotts, 1422 North Third street, Clinton, Iowa. The wedding is to take place at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, at the Harris home in Esmond, with the Rev. Clarence Danekas, pastor of the White Rock church, reading the vows.

Miss Harris was graduated from Rochelle high school, and is employed in that city. Her fiancé was graduated from Lyons high school at Clinton in 1934, and from Iowa State college at Ames in 1939. He is now with the agricultural department in Washington, D. C.

FROM FREEPORT

Michigan Man Denies His Magazine Is One Named in Indictment

Detroit, July 24.—(AP)—Gerald L. K. Smith, chairman of the Committee of 1,000,000 and editor and publisher of "The Cross and the Flag," monthly publication, said today that if such a publication was named in a Washington indictment charging seditious conspiracy, "it is not mine."

An indictment against 28 persons charged with conspiracy to obstruct the war effort, returned at Washington Thursday, named "The Cross and the Flag" as one of the publications it said were "used" in the conspiracy.

Smith, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator from Michigan, said: "My publications have not carried any seditious articles. I would know it if it had."

A Thought For Today

Better is the poor that walketh in his integrity, than he that is perverse in his lips, and is a fool.—Proverbs 19:1.

I prefer silent prudence to loquacious
folly.—Cicero.

After Election

Almost daily informed Washington correspondents report new phases of war effort which are being handicapped by politics and selfishness.

The tendency on the part of both administrative and legislative agencies is to "let it wait until
after election."

For example, there is the tax program. The Treasury asked for a minimum of $8,700,000,000.
The House is providing $6,250,000,000.

The missing $2,450,000,000 is needed to help finance the war. Also, experts generally agree, at least this sum should be taken from the public to help avert inflation.

Congress is expected to provide the amount in a supplemental tax bill. Now? Oh, no. After the election.

We can't possibly acquire or make enough rubber to supply our most pressing war needs from mid-1943 to around the middle of 1944. Unless tires now being worn out in pleasure driving are saved for war use, we are going to find ourselves in trouble.

Informed opinion is that civilian tires are going to be requisitioned—perhaps all, perhaps those in excess of five per motorist. Now—while they still have a lot of wear in them? Oh, no. After the election.

If tires are not to be taken, the next best way to save them in part is thought to be nationwide gasoline rationing to restrict their use. That is seriously considered. Now? How about waiting until after election?

President Roosevelt outlined the essentials of a successful price control policy to avert inflation, and gave Leon Henderson the job. Two vital points were wage control and farm price control. It is becoming increasingly apparent that, to a limited extent
at least, a reluctant Washington is going to be forced to do something about these. Now? No—
after election.

The idea of politicians seems to be that by cat-
tering to pressure groups, between now and November,
the politicians can be re-elected.

We doubt that it will work that way. We have a feeling that with American men on and near the fighting fronts, and other millions on their way, the people are more interested in winning this war

fast than in preserving the old, soft ways of living.
Hitler isn't waiting until after our elections.
Hirohito isn't waiting. Only our politicians are waiting.

If they continue to wait until after election, and if because of their procrastination this war is prolonged and thousands more of Americans are killed,
we wonder how much they will enjoy the privilege of staying in Washington.

Farley versus Roosevelt

The Democratic battle over the New York governorship is not a private fight. Rather, it is the preliminary maneuver to determine whether the President or his former buddy, Genim Jim Farley, shall control the 1944 presidential convention.

If the President can prevent Farley from nominating Attorney-General Bennett for the governorship, the former postmaster-general will be pretty well washed up as a political figure. But if Farley wins—as he now has a better than even chance of doing—he will expect to swing a big stick over the 1944 nomination.

A lot of canny observers are convinced that this is the only real importance of the fight. They feel that Racket Buster Dewey will obtain the Republican nomination and win the governorship, whoever the divided Democrats may choose.

Better by Bomber

Those were stirring messages which United Nations leaders sent to China on the fifth anniversary of her long resistance against Japan, and well deserved recognitions of the bulldog tenacity the Chinese people has shown.

If every congratulatory message had been sent by flying fortress, which could have remained there to help save China as a base for the attack we must make some day on the Nipponese archipelago, we suspect the Chinese would have been much more impressed.

Words are graceful, but planes are essential if China is to be saved.

Tragic Accord

Tokyo, ever sensitive to Anglo-American welfare, is sympathetic about our "tragic error" in promising a second front in Europe against Hitler.

We appreciate Nippon's thoughtfulness, but we can assure Emperor Hirohito's foreign office that we did not commit ourselves without canvassing the possibilities. Also, we might point out that we could rely more upon Japanese omniscience if we did not remember how Jimmy Doolittle's raid on Tokyo interrupted a broadcast assuring the little brown men
that Americans never could bomb them.

It did happen in Tokyo. It will happen in Europe.

Who Cares?

Benjamin Franklin had a way of saying homely things so they stuck in the memory. If the sage of Philadelphia were alive today, we can imagine that he might modernize one of his more famous parables something like this:

For want of a tire workmen were absent; for want of their labor a plane was delayed; for want of that plane a ship was sunk, being waylaid and torpedoed by a submarine, and 60 lives were lost;
all for want of a tire worn out in pleasure riding.

DIXON EVENING TELEGRAPH

News BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON (Distributed by King Features

ited.)

Washington, July 23—If promises were tires, the nation would ride, but, as it is, the rubber problem is sinking deeper and deeper into the mire of business competition and politics.

No one seems able or willing to take hold of various difficult phases of the problem and hammer out a satisfactory policy.

To cite a typical example, the five big rubber manufacturers
trooped into town with an exhibit of rubber processes, designed to show that sixty per cent of civilian needs and all military requirements could be satisfied
without much trouble. The exhibit was set up in a hotel parlor and government officials were invited
in to see it a week before it was opened.

Before most officials got around to it, they read some advanced stories in one local newspaper suggesting that this exhibit would solve all national problems of tires and gas rationing. That happened to be a little more than industry claimed, and it made the government officials angry and critical in advance.

Few even went to the show
until the arrangers for the industry made it clear they were not responsible for the publicity. WPB Director Donald Nelson then came in, made a few notes and went on his way.

The oil industry stole a march
of five days on the rubber manufacturers, when W. S. Farish, president of Standard Oil of New Jersey, announced his company will produce 200,000 tons of synthetic rubber by the end of next year.

However, Franklyn Waltman,
former publicity director of the Republican national committee,
succeeded in anticipating Farish
by assembling a large press conference here a week earlier to promote interest in the Houdry
process of one of his new clients, which apparently is backed by competitors of Farish, namely, the Sun Oil Company and the Standards of New York and California.

So it goes in an active competitive business battle to produce synthetic tires for the nation,
while government officials look on skeptically. They naturally want to justify their policy, continuing rationing.

They find numerous faults with the various proposals, contending for instance that there is nothing
"new" in the rubber show, that the other processes will not produce good tires or will need too
much steel for plant construction,
or cannot produce in time, etc.

Meanwhile, Donald Nelson has thrown the powerful weight of his position against the Gillette bill
in congress proposing to create a single rubber authority, not Nelson,
and to manufacture more rubber from alcohol than Nelson wants. He practically told congress that if he had it to do over again, he might allow more synthetic production from alcohol but that the change now would upset
his calculations.

As a result of this, or other congressional dissatisfaction with Nelson's failure in this one line
of production, the Capitol cloak-rooms are filled with rumors that he may stay in London on his forthcoming trip, or that he will otherwise be retired. (Not confirmed by any executive authority).

Thus all avenues of activity
seem to lead into the same dead-end street upon which the rubber problem has been running from the beginning. No one, not even Roosevelt, seems to have been entirely without fault.

In circulation in congressional quarters is a clipping from the New York Times of February 26, 1941, containing the following account of a presidential press conference of the previous day:

"The president expressed his belief that the United States was in no danger of running short of rubber, much of which comes from the Netherlands Indies.

Much raw rubber has been bought by this country and there is a good sized supply on hand, he said. If a 'pick-up' campaign becomes necessary, enough rubber
could be obtained from old tires
and used rubber to keep going until synthetic rubber plants could be put up."

The failure of the government
under its managed war economy
to provide either sufficient tires
or eastern gasoline for necessary civilian work—while succeeding in all other production lines—is practically the exclusive subject of civilian conversation in the east where the stricter gas rationing (4 gallons a week) went into effect Wednesday.

The state of public opinion in the mid-west is generally accepted
by congress as the reason for continued postponement of national gas rationing.

Today it is generally believed here that this project has been

Once Rich Negro Dies Penniless in Negroes' Home

Milwaukee, July 24.—(AP)—The colorful operator of Milwaukee's
"Bucket of Blood" in the early days of the century who, legend has it, ran $10 into a fortune of $500,000 or more, died penniless
Wednesday in a home for Negroes
at Rock Island, Ill.

He was John L. Slaughter, 84, a one time Negro porter whose name was a tradition in Milwaukee some 35 years ago.

Just a few inches short of 7
feet, Slaughter presided for years
over one of Milwaukee's most notorious taverns and gambling halls, "The Bucket of Blood," and owned the old Turf Hotel on Wells St., between 2nd and 3rd sts. The place was known throughout the midwest as was Slaughter, generally referred to as "Honest John"
and "Long John".

Heyday Activities
A restaurant exclusively for Negroes, a string of thoroughbreds, extensive realty holdings and the saloon and gambling business were among Slaughter's activities in his heyday. Legend said that money rolled in so fast Slaughter threw it in canvas bags without counting it.

Slaughter was reported to have gotten his start more than 40 years ago when a jeweler loaned him $10. He ran it into $200 in a dice game, old timers say, and this proved to be the grubstake for his myriad enterprises.

He left Milwaukee in 1916 and acquired real estate holdings in Chicago and Gary, Ind., but in 1929 he was back in Milwaukee with little money left.

In 1933 he came before County Judge Michael S. Sheridan and applied for an old age pension of $25 a month.

"I paid a lot of taxes here," he said, "Dealt 'em straight and rolled 'em wide. Never turned a hungry man down. Guess Milwaukee won't mind kicking back a few dollars to 'Long John'".

He got the pension.

'Outsiders Are Tearing Down Race Segregation'

Montgomery, Ala., July 24.—(A P)—The governors of Alabama and Georgia charged today that outsiders are attempting to tear down the principles of race segregation in the south.

Governor Frank M. Dixon of Alabama accused two federal agencies of adopting policies which he said would destroy segregation
"under which the white and Negro races have lived in peace together in the south since reconstruction."

Eugene Talmadge, red-galussed
governor of Georgia, advised Negroes who did not like the state's segregation laws "to stay out of Georgia," and added:

"Outside influences know nothing about the traditions and conditions here and should not interfere with the friendship between the two races of long years' standings."

Dixon's assertions were made in a letter explaining his reasons for not signing a contract with the Defense Supplies Corporation for 1,750,000 yards of convict-made osnaburg cloth. The contract contained a workers' non-discrimination clause.

RESCUE AND REUNION

CHAPTER XIV

A FAINT hope, or perhaps only a sorrowful curiosity, prompted Clyde Dawson to telephone the port commander who had told him of Carole Fiske's disappearance aboard the torpedoed steamer Fort Glengarry.

"Captain," he said, "I recall that the girl I'm hunting was given accommodation in a cabin with an officer's wife. Can you tell me where I could find this rescued woman?"

"She was brought to the St.
John's General Hospital," the naval officer replied. "Let me call the hospital and find out if she is able to see you. I'll ring you back."

With permission of the head
doctor, the commander arranged
a short interview with the surviving woman passenger. Dawson found her waiting for him in the sun porch. Pausing only to congratulate her on being saved, he asked if she knew Carole Fiske.

"Yes, she shared the cabin with me . . . in fact—the woman's voice lowered to a whisper—"I wouldn't be alive if it wasn't for Carole Fiske. When the torpedo hit I was asleep in my bunk . . .
the horrible crash woke me . . .
and the next moment the ship listed heavily to starboard. It was terrible . . . the lighting system was destroyed and the portholes were sealed for blackout, so we were in utter darkness. I heard people screaming, then I must have fainted . . . I have a bad heart anyway."

"They told me later that Carole dragged me from the cabin
through the passageway and onto the deck. When I came to, a sailor was helping her lift me into a lifeboat. Just then the ship listed worse than ever. The barely saved lifeboat clear when the ship keeled over. Carole—the woman's voice broke—
"Carole didn't have time to climb
in. She was probably too exhausted. If I had only kept my senses . . . if I hadn't been ill,
she might . . ."

The woman covered her face with her hands. Dawson, without a word, rose to his feet and walked slowly from the ward.
For the second time within an hour he walked unseeing through the wintry streets of St. John's, heedless of direction, of traffic and of passers-by. Clyde Dawson had seen death so often, had barely escaped it himself with only the fatalistic second thought that it was part of his job. But Carole Fiske . . . pert, keenwitted, smartly dressed . . . her moments of quiet concern about Darwin Lemoy . . . Carole Fiske, out there in the blizzard-blown Atlantic graveyard in the dark of night . . . And all because he had played the cagey, cock-sure investigator too long. A word from him and she would have still been here.

Dawson's aimless steps had led him back to the Newfoundland Hotel. Wearily he mounted the circular stairway to the main lobby. As he passed the desk the clerk halted him.

"Naval headquarters has been calling you, Mr. Dawson—It's most urgent, they say. I'll have you connected by phone."

The captain came on the line immediately.

"I've been trying to find you,
Dawson . . . damn good news,
my boy! An American flying boat spotted three people on a raft

EVENING TELEGRAPH TENNIS MEET WILL START AUG. 8

Women Can Enter Meet This Year

All Finals Will Be Played on Sunday August 16

The Evening Telegraph, in conjunction with the Dixon Tennis Club, will sponsor a city tennis tournament at the high school courts, Aug. 8, 9, 15 and 16.

There will be three classes of entrants and, for the first time in the history of the tournament, there will be a women's singles division this year. There will also be a men's singles and men's doubles. Any Dixon resident is eligible to play in the meet and there will be a fifty cents entry fee. An entry blank will be published in the Evening Telegraph next week. Prizes will be awarded to winners in each class.

The tournament will start Aug. 8 when the doubles preliminaries will be played. On Sunday, Aug. 9, the men's singles will start and the women will commence play on the following Saturday. All finals will be played, Sunday, Aug. 16.

Judges will only be present for the finals, and matches will be 2 out of 3 sets except for the finals when the winner will be determined in the best three out of five sets. Tennis shoes must be worn by all participants.

Ward Smith, defending champion in the tournament and member of the Dixon tennis team which was undefeated last year in the Rock River Valley league play, has signified that he will compete this year.

Other members of the championship team last year are Harold Peterson, R. A. Joslyn, William Moser, and Howard Quick. Peterson and Joslyn will be back in competition this year but Moser and Quick have not yet signified their intentions.

George Covert, three-time winner of the Telegraph tournament and runnerup for the past two years, has announced that he will be unable to play this year. Smith paired with Covert last year to top the doubles title.

Ted Mason, N. C. I. C. champion, Rockford district champion and competitor in this year's state high school meet at Champaign, will play in the tournament.

Philip Reilly and William Goff, who were doubles finalists in the N. C. I. C., have notified the Telegraph that they will enter the matches.

Other possible entrants are Warren Lapham, member of the undefeated 1940 high school team which won the N. C. I. C. title and the Rockford district meet; and Charles Schuler from Kansas University.

It is pretty hard to get a line on possible women entrants as women have not been active in local tournament or league competition heretofore.

However, Gertrude Wallin and Betty Witzleb have both announced that they will play and have asked other girls that are interested to call them for further details.

Some possible entrants in the women's singles are Jane Winert, Shirley Smith, Alice Leer, Martha Moser, Joy Heckman, Julia Marloth, Shirley Welch, Donna Jean Grover, Trudy Pruitt, Vinogene Knapp and Betty Jean Heckman.

Sports Poll

Don Miller will arrive in Dixon this evening from Madison, Wis., where he is attending summer school at the university there. He will spend the weekend with his family here, returning to Wisconsin Monday.

Don't you think it would be a nice homecoming for Don, if you were to cast a few thousand votes for him?

When you stop to think of it, it isn't much to ask that you sign your name to a paper. There is a minimum of work attached to the process and it won't cost you a cent, theoretically speaking.

Let's show Don that Dixon is proud of the record he has made and is willing to back him with its support in the form of votes.

In a short time both Don and Jerry Ankeny probably will be fighting to preserve your way of life and to insure your safety and freedom. Jerry is in the air corps now as a member of the Flying Hawkeyes at Lambert Field, St. Louis. Don will enter the marines as soon as he completes his summer studies.

They're willing to sacrifice their lives for you; surely you are willing to exert a little effort for them. Fill in the ballot which you will find in the upper right hand corner of this page. Or go into one of the stores and sign a petition which is available there. Or better yet when your carrier boy comes around to collect tomorrow ask him to let you sign the petition which he has.

All votes must be in by midnight Sunday so you haven't much time to act. Don't wait—

VOTE NOW!

The very negligible sum of 133 votes was received today. This brings the sum of votes which Miller and Ankeny have received for positions on the college All-Star grid squad to 1408. This betters by three or four hundred the number which some people said I would be able to poll for the boys.

However, it is quite a few thousand short of the total which I thought would be polled. Perhaps I put my sights too high, or maybe I was over estimating the amount of co-operation I would receive from you.

You can still make a good showing. Votes received tomorrow will count just as much as votes polled two weeks ago. Take off a couple of minutes tonight and cast your ballot.

I would like to express my appreciation to those out-of-town and out-of-state supporters who have sent in ballots, voting for Miller and Ankeny. I have received votes from Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Chicago, Springfield and other places. This morning a ballot arrived from a soldier boy at Camp Crowder, Mo. Thank you.

Darold Jenkins who had held the lead since the poll began. Jenkins trails the giant Banonis by about 3000 votes but holds a comfortable margin over third-place Lindsag of Stanford.

In the quarterback department, Ankeny's rival, Al Coupee of Iowa, climbed into third place, displacing Frankie Albert of Stanford. However, he is still thousands of votes back of the leaders, Erditz and Kruger of Northwestern.

All other rankings were comparatively unchanged with Kutner, Texas end; Blozis, Georgetown tackle; Crimmins, Notre Dame guard; and Westfall, Michigan fullback, still leading in their respective positions.

Kovatch and Charles Ringer of Missouri are now second and third in the end department, taking over the positions held by Rast and Fitch yesterday.

Alf Bauman is back in the top three of the tackle race and Urban Odson has slipped from second to fourth. Lillis, third place yesterday, is No. 2 man today.

Jeffries of Missouri is No. 2 guard today, climbing from his third place position of yesterday. Frankowski of Washington nudged out Pukema for third place.

Don Green of Iowa has taken over the third place spot in the fullback race, replacing Don Swelger of Minnesota. Second man is still Jack Graf of Ohio State.

LUKE SEWELL'S BROWNIES WHIP ATHLETICS, 9-6

St. Louis Rests in Fourth Place Only 4 Games Out of Second

BY JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
James Luther (Luke) Sewell, the 41-year-old pilot of the St. Louis Browns, is being spoken of these days as the Manager of the Year and while this may be premature, it couldn't happen to a nicer guy as the saying goes.

It has been a long time since the Browns have been in the first division at this extended stage of the American league pennant race.

The fact that the Browns now not only are in fourth place, but have won 12 of their last 14 contests and are just four games back of the second place Boston Red Sox, is a glowing tribute to the leadership of the soft-spoken University of Alabama alumnus.

The Browns have given up half a dozen players to the armed services, but in spite of this the club has improved due to judicious trading.

Back on Active List
In addition to his skillful direction of the club, Sewell has made one other recent move of importance to his club. He has put himself back on the active list and caught parts of two games in the last week to give the veteran Rick Ferrell a rest while Frank Hayes is ailing.

Sewell worked five innings yesterday while the Browns went about beating the Philadelphia Athletics 9-6. Chet Laabs, who has developed into a star recently, made three hits and Vernon Stephens, who has developed into one of the outstanding shortstops in the major leagues in one season under Sewell's guidance, contributed a homer.

This happened while the New York Yankees were ending their 11-game winning streak at Cleveland and dropping a full game of their ample lead to all the first division teams in the league.

Rizzuto Errors, Indians Win
The Yanks had a 2-0 lead and big Ernie Bonham was within a whisper of his fifth shutout, when Phil Rizzuto made an error to give the Indians an opening.

They promptly tied the score with three singles and then won the game 3-2 in the eleventh on two more singles, one a pinch-hit by Otto Denning to drive over the deciding run.

The Boston Red Sox halted their losing streak by noosing out the Chicago White Sox 5-4 with two runs built around Dom DiMaggio's triple in the seventh inning after Joe Cronin and Pete Fox homered in the fourth.

Washington whipped the Detroit Tigers again 5-3 for Alex Carrasquel's third triumph with-in a week.

In the National league the New York Giants took over undisputed possession of third place by out-homering the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-4.

In the only other contest scheduled, a night affair at Philadelphia, the last-place Phils knocked off the St. Louis Cardinals 4-3, and put them seven games behind the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers.

Manager of Year?

Luke Sewell, St. Louis Browns manager, is already being spoken of as manager of the year for the fine work he has done this season with his usually second-division team. The Browns at the moment are riding on the crest of a streak in which they have won 12 of their last 14 contests, and are in the first division only four games back of second-place Boston Red Sox.

LITTLE, NELSON CARD 67s, LEAD TAM O'SHANTER

Semi-Finals of All American Amateur Today

By GAYLE TALBOT

Chicago, July 24—(AP)—The Tam O'Shanter Golf tournament, unlimited, made considerable sense today for a change, because Byron Nelson and Lawson Little, two of the game's great players, were winging along in front of the field in the $15,000 open event with identical scores of 67—five strokes under par—after the first round of the 72-hole contest.

This was the first really sane development of an otherwise daffy week at Tam O'Shanter.

Nelson, last year's winner here and possibly the finest medal player in the game today, shot his round early to get the jump on some 138 professionals and a flock of distracted amateurs.

Little, on his record certainly the most formidable player in the world, came in just before dark last night to tie Nelson and announce his candidacy for the first prize of $2,500 that will be handed out Sunday.

Sellers Records 68
Gib Sellers of Walled Lake, Mich., was right behind the leaders with a 68, while Dick Metz and Clayton Haefner were next at 69. Ben Hogan, the game's consistent money winner, was in threatening position with a 71.

Three negro professionals, Howard Wheeler of Los Angeles, Calvin Searles of New Orleans and Edson Marshall of Indianapolis, each equalled par 72.

The amateurs, after two days of furious battle, had reduced themselves to a quartet—Marvin (Bud) Ward of Spokane, Wash., the national champion; John Holmstrom of Rockford, Ill.; Wilford Werhe of Racine, Wis., and Mike Stolarik, storekeeper third class at the Great Lakes naval training station. In the 36-hole semi-final matches today Werhe met Holmstrom and Ward tackled Stolarik.

Two defeated amateurs, Johnny Lehman of Chicago and Pat Abbott of Pasadena, led their compatriots in the open division of the tournament, each having shot a 71 in his first round yesterday. Ward had to go 23 holes to eliminate Earl Stewart, the '41 Inter-collegiate champion, in their third round match.

Play Golf at Polo Sunday

A golf team from the Dixon Country club will go to Polo Sunday to engage in a return inter-club match with the Edgewood Country club there. Earlier in the season the local boys handed the out-of-towners a pretty stiff defeat in a match played here.

Play is expected to start at about 1:30 o'clock and it is hoped that at least 15 local players will make the trip. All those interested should either signify their intentions at the country club or should notify Ken Detweiler.

Thursday the local boys will go to Rochelle where they will compete in a stag tourney. Five clubs have already announced they would attend the meet. The clubs are Oregon, Rochelle, Polo, Dixon and DeKalb.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Dom DiMaggio, Red Sox—Knocked in tying run with triple and then scored winning run himself against White Sox.

Chet Laabs, Browns—Made three hits, including a double driving in one run, to pace offense against Athletics.

Al Glossop, Phils—Singled home tying and winning runs in upset of Cardinals.

Sports Roundup

By SID FEDER

New York, July 24—(Wide World)—A bunch of the Pirate and Dodger ballplayers, chinning about this and that on the way east early this week, tabbed Tommy Hughes of the Phillies as the National league's No. 1 elbow-right now. Proving you never can tell where you'll find gold. The fur-lined skimmer for the best managing job of the season looks like a photo finish between old Luke Sewell and master Melvin Ott. (Any arguments?) Tom Packs, the St. Loo rassing impresario, angled that west show in the Polo grounds a couple of weeks ago to the tune of a neat ten grand.

NOTES TO YOU

Ring Magazine took a nationwide poll and found out that 68 per cent of the fight clubs in the country have shut down or haven't had a show since January. New York state sometimes had as high as 28 in the past, but shows only 13 licensed now. And only nine of them operating. Bert McGrane (Des Moines Register), Wilfred (Tiny) Smith (Chicago Tribune) and Clyde McBride (Kansas City Star) have organized a National Football Writers Association—first of its kind. Did you know Chet Laabs' uncle, Tony Sculzowski, had a tryout with the Cubs 25 years ago and later played with the Milwaukee Brewers? He gave the linotypers a break by travelling under the name of Schultz.

CLUTCH TOUGH

Lew Riggs has only slapped two doubles and a pair of homers and knocked in seven runs for his first ten pinch-hit appearances this year. Which hardly comes under the heading of a slump. And do you suppose Bill Dickey's telling those Yankee pitchers to sorta take it easy on his kid brother? Cause Skeets has banged the champ elbows for a homer, a double and a pair of one-base knocks as a White Sox pinch-hitter this season.

BOUNCING AROUND

Satchel Paige, the Negro pitching ace, is getting a mere $2,000 for serving 'em up for the Kansas City Monarchs in that doubleheader with the New York Cuban Stars in Yankee Stadium Aug. 2. The new National Boxing Association ratings have Johnny Colan among the logical light-heavy contenders and Anton Christofiridis 'way down among the honorable mentions. Although Christo has whipped Johnny twice this year. What's cookin', boys? The Giants are about ready to give up on that synthetic twilight ball. It just isn't box office.

PLAY BALL AT ORDNANCE PLANT

The Green River Ordnance plant has announced that two softball leagues have been organized and will start play Monday night. There are ten teams in each league, players being recruited from the office, as well as the construction workers.

Each team will play every other team in the league, the two league winners meeting to determine the plant championship. The champion will be the winner of two out of three games played and each member of the championship team will receive an award.

League games will be played every night in the week, starting at 5:30 o'clock. There will be four games a night, two on each of the diamonds which have been laid out on the plant area.

The teams have not yet been named but can be identified by numbers. For example in each league, the Blue and the Red, the teams are numbered from one to ten.

he suggested, "need only look at the firing squads in Poland, Czechoslovakia, Norway, France, Yugoslavia."

"After Victory"
After victory, Hull said will come the difficult period of transition from war to peace. During this period the United Nations must cooperate to provide quick relief for starving populations, to restore public order and a sense of normal life in wartorn areas.

To prevent a new outbreak of war, "it is plain that some international agency must be created which can—by force if necessary—
keep the peace among the nations in the future." Such international cooperative action must include
"adjustment of national armaments."

"It is equally clear," Hull added,
that in the process of reestablishing international order, the United Nations must exercise surveillance over aggressor nations until such time as the latter demonstrate their willingness and ability to live
at peace with other nations."

To restore world trade and "the immeasurable benefits of international exchange of goods and services" there must be reduction of tariff barriers. "Equally plain is the need for making national currencies once more freely exchange-able for each other at stable rates
of exchange; for a system of financial relations so devised that materials can be produced and ways may be found of moving them where there are markets created by human need."

And so finally, "with peace among nations reasonably assured,
with political stability established,
with economic shackles removed,
a vast fund of resources will be released in each nation to meet the needs of progress, to make possible
for all of its citizens an advancement toward higher living standards, to invigorate the constructive forces of initiative and enterprise."

Laundries Must Con- tinue 'Cheap Services'

Washington, July 24—(AP)— Laundries must continue the same
low-price services they offered last March or face action as violators
of price regulations, Price Administrator Leon Henderson declared today.

Henderson said his warning was prompted by reports some laun-dries had discontinued such cheaper services as "wet wash," "rough dry," "family finish" and "thrift service," and were requiring customers to buy more expensive services which include full starching
and ironing and item-by-item charges.

and that is Dutch Harbor—dreary enough by itself, but an oasis of luxury compared to others.

Except for "long handled" wool underwear and a fur-lined jacket borrowed from the Navy, I began the trip in clothing left over from tropical cruises. I soon found that a mistake and gradually acquired knee length wool socks,
gloves, a heavy wool shirt, a pair of waterproof "iron" pants and five-buckle galoshes to keep the mud and cold out of openwork tropical shoes.

Parachutes Useless
Most Aleutian flying is done within 100 feet of the sea and if anything goes wrong at that altitude a parachute is worse than useless. Parachutes were no good either at 10,000 feet over Kiska,
for recourse to a chute above that Jap outpost or the adjacent waters would only have made death a little slower and more difficult to accept.

A gunner on my first Catalina
explained these matters as he explained the workings of a military chute.

We turned westward and set a course down the peninsula in weather that, for once, was good.
Two hours later it began to close in and I saw the sun only once in nine days.

Five hours later the gunner
shook me awake and told me to get up because we were ready to land. We were outside Dutch Harbor, he said.

I looked out into a gray wet
world in which the only distinguishable features were the darker grey waves directly beneath.
There was nothing but fog.
"Who knows it's Dutch Harbor?" I yelled.

Navigator Found Port
"The navigator," he grinned.
"He's never missed yet."

We cruised in circles for three hours before we slipped into a desolate bay and landed.

That night we slept aboard an old destroyer converted to duty as a seaplane tender. And we stayed two days, for next morning the wind had risen to gale force.

On the second day I went ashore
and saw the tundra for the first time, a hummocky morass that looks like land God plowed experimentally and then wisely decided to throw away.

Four-engine B-17 and B-24
heavy bombers, fast P-40 and P-38
fighter-bombers and a half dozen huge amphibian Catalinas crouched along a runway carved through that useless land.

In a lantern lit shack I found a field telephone and soon in a truck driven by a cheerful kid
from Texas came jouncing over the tundra to get me.

"This is a hell of a place," I told him.

"Well, it ain't Texas," he admitted. "But you get used to it."

We halted alongside a cluster of brown, sod-banked tents and he led me to one. It had no floor and no light. A couple of cots and a heap of muddy gear filled the interior. This was headquarters and also home for the squadron skipper.

In 70-Knot Wind

That night we slept in a tent
and by morning another 70-knot
wind had the canvass cracking
like gunfire while rain slatted
through the flaps and we huddled in down sleeping bags, vainly hoping to get warm.

The wind abated during the day
and we got away in a Catalina amphibian.

We made Dutch Harbor that day
after challenging three aircraft enroute. Each time an unidentified speck appeared near us the gunners unstrapped their guns and waited until the plane was identified. It was not many days since the Japs had appeared here.

Next day we were off again,
heading for the makeshift outpost from which the Kiska bombers jump off. We found that almost a repetition of our first dispersal point.

The trip to Kiska might have been a nightmare but was actually a miracle of aerial navigation. The big bomber ducked under the seahugging fog. We saw no land until we pulled through the soup and found the rocky peak of our target rearing through the murk a few miles away.

Sees Former Airliner

Two days later I discovered
what has become of America's civilian airliners. Out of the fog
like a ghost glided a Douglas DC-3.
Six months ago it was doing duty
as a luxury airliner in the states.

Now it was just an airplane and a hard-working one at that. It disgorge a dozen men and a couple of tons of freight including such lightweight trinkets as engine parts, propellers and a dozen blacksmith's anvils.

Half an hour later it was in the air again.

The freight was piled in and the men assigned to go appeared quietly and climbed aboard, carrying their own packs and rifles.
We had a 500-foot visibility to get off with but within a hundred miles the soup had closed in and when an hour had passed we were flying 20 feet off the water with one wing over the land and the other over the sea. We scudded along at 160 miles an hour.

After two hours of that we climbed 5,000 feet before we went through the roof and then we had to stay there 500 miles before we could get down again.

A bombardier on leave sat beside me on the aluminum bench

New Training Bomber of Plastics to Save Vital Materials

It was designed to meet necessity of training bombing crews as a unit, and enables them to take flights simulating conditions of long range bombing attacks.

and stared at the grandeur outside.

"This is the meanest country in the world and the most wonderful.
I'll never leave it," he said.

JAPS ARE LONELY

New York, July 24—(AP)—The Tokyo radio broadcast a Domei dispatch today in which a Japanese correspondent on Kiska island at the western end of the Aleutians reported that United States bombers were attacking Japanese forces there two or three times a day, dropping bombs
through the fog.

The broadcast quoted the correspondent as saying that Japanese forces who have moved into barracks on the island suffered from loneliness and hardships and faced a bitter cold winter which would set in during September.

He reported that since the Japanese landing a month ago the Japanese had changed the name of the island to Narukami, and said roads were being built across the black treeless hills.

"We are having the best weather
here now," his dispatch said,
"with the temperature about the same as in February in Japan proper, and the foothills are covered with a profusion of beautiful black lilies and mountain violets."
The loneliness in this remote northern base is hard to imagine back home.

"The soldiers are all in high spirits as I watch them busily at their work, but I imagine they,
too, are lonely—for loneliness is loneliness and hardships are hardships to anyone."

Two Army Fliers, One From Kewanee, Killed

Lynchburg, Va., July 24—(AP)—
Two Army fliers, identified by cards on their persons as Capt.
Harold C. Smith and Second Lieutenant Russel W. Wetzel, were killed in the crash of their plane
in a farm field just south of Lynchburg today. Both were from Bolling Field.

Officials at Bolling Field said that Wetzel was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Wetzel, Kewanee, Ill.
He was unmarried.

Smith, 31, is survived by a wife
and child who live at Bolling Field.

Smith was adjutant of a flying squadron stationed at Bolling Field. Officials said that Wetzel was piloting the plane and that the two officers were flying to Lynchburg for a hearing.

C. B. Seger, owner of the farm where the crash occurred, said the ship wavered and nosed over to dive to the ground.

The ship burned before the two bodies could be removed.

Divorce Cases Hold Attention of Court

Today was a field day for divorces in the Lee county Circuit court as Judge George C. Dixon was hearing marital troubles.
There were indications that an even half dozen couples would be separated before the day's glist closed, half that number having been handled before the noon hour.

Lillian Powell was granted a decree from William R. Powell on the grounds of extreme and repeated cruelty, despite the fact that the latter filed an answer denying the charges. The couple were married Oct. 5, 1941.

Alice Kreisch charged Michael Kreisch of this city with desertion,
and was permitted to resume her maiden name, Alice Joly, in her petition, which was heard by the court. The couple were married in Dixon Aug. 28, 1938. The husband filed a denial of the charge.

Mrs. Mildred Olson of Compton was granted a decree for divorce from Harlow Olson, whom she charged with statutory offenses. The couple were married in Chicago, March 22, 1930.

THE MARKET BASKET

Prepared by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture

FOR VICTORY MEAL

With a record crop of young chickens and a southern peach crop well above average moving to market, the nation's retailers today began featuring these perishables as Victory Food Specials under the department of agriculture's plan for making full use of the country's wartime food supply. Victory Food Specials are designated by the Agricultural Marketing Administration.

The millions of chickens now reaching the broiler and fryer stages are the cockerel by-product of a record spring hatch made to increase laying flocks to fill orders which, for lend-lease alone, require more than two million dozen eggs a day. At the same time that this nutritious but perishable meat is coming to market, canned and cured pork, bought during June at the rate of more than six million pounds a day, is being shipped to feed the armies and peoples of the United Nations.

The Victory Food Special label has been put on poultry to focus consumer attention on this perishable meat to prevent its waste and conserve foods needed for war use. Fryers and broilers will wear the emblem from July 16 through July 25.

The 21 million-bushel southern peach crop, while it falls short of last year's bumper crop, is substantially above the 10-year average so that consumer attention is being focused there to help move the crop to market. Peaches will be a nation-wide Victory Food Special from today through August 5.

GOOD SEASON FOR PEACHES

Attention, homemakers — and anyone else who is planning to can fruit while the summer harvests are ripe! This is the season for peaches and the crop is a good one. In fact, peaches are the "Victory Food Special" from July 16 to August 5.

For those of you who plan to "put up" some of this fruit for future meals, here are tips from home economists, U. S. Department of Agriculture, on how to do it through the hot-pack method, a good and safe way to can peaches.

Getting Them Ready

Wash peaches in cold water, but do not soak them.

Remove the skins. Pare thin to save all the fruit you can.

If the skins are hard to take off, put the peaches in hot water for about a half-minute or until the skins will slip easily. Then duck the fruit in cold water for a few seconds before removing the skins.

Peaches may turn brown, as a result of their hot water plunge. To help prevent this, you can dip them in a solution of salt, vinegar, and water for about two minutes after removing the skins. Use two tablespoons each of salt and vinegar to a gallon of cold water.

Can In Own Juice

Canning fruit in its own juice is a good way to hold in its flavor and food value.

First, cut the peaches in slices. You can get more fruit in the jar when peaches are sliced—an important point in view of the shortage of containers and rubber for canning purposes.

Put the sliced fruit in a kettle and add sugar. This is the most economical way to use your canning allotment of sugar. By putting sugar directly on the peaches, you help draw out the juice, waste no sweetening.

Let the sugar stand on the sliced fruit a few moments before heating it, to start the juice flowing.

Then put the kettle on the stove and heat the peaches slowly until the sugar has dissolved and the fruit is hot throughout. But be sure not to cook the peaches until they are soft.

Pack and Process

Pack the hot fruit with its juice in clean, hot, sterilized jars. Fill each jar to within an inch of the top and pack the fruit firmly but not too tight.

Process the jars of peaches in a boiling water bath. You can rig up such a water-bath canner from a large kettle or a wash boiler—any vessel with a tight cover, and big enough to hold several jars and allow for covering them with 1 to 2 inches of water. Fit the canner with a rack to hold the jars off the bottom.

Have water in the canner boiling before you put in the jars of fruit.

Place the jars on the rack, leaving enough room for water to circulate freely around and under each one.

Make sure the water comes over the jar tops at least 1 or 2 inches, and keep it that way throughout processing.

Put the top on the canner and start counting processing time as soon as the water begins to boil hard.

Process peaches, whether in quart or pint jars, for 15 minutes if you live in altitudes of 1,000 feet or less. If you live in higher altitudes, increase the time 20 per cent for each additional 1,000 feet. For instance, you would process 18 minutes at 2,000 feet elevation, and so on.

When the fruit is processed, remove the jars from the canner and set them right-side-up to cool. After the fruit has cooled, test each jar by turning it upside down for a few minutes to be sure it is airtight and doesn't leak.

Canning by Halves

To can peaches in halves, make a light sirup using the proportion of 5 cups of sugar to a gallon of water.

Bring the sirup to a boil, and then drop in the peaches, peeled, pitted, and halved.

When the peaches are thoroughly heated, pack them into jars with the sirup.

Process in the boiling water bath as described for sliced peaches.

If you like, in making the sirup, use honey or corn sirup in place of part of the sugar. Use equal parts of honey and sugar. With corn sirup, use two-thirds sugar and one-third corn sirup.

Contractor Suicides in Chillicothe Park

Chillicothe, Ill., July 24—(AP)—The body of Andrew Anderson, 62, an East St. Louis contractor, was found in the city park here early today.
Dr. Harold F. Diller, Peoria county coroner, said Anderson apparently had alighted from the 12:15 a. m. Peoria-bound passenger train and walked across the Rock Island railroad yards into the park.
The coroner said he found a note asking that Anderson's widow, Alice, and a sister-in-law here be notified.
A bullet hole was in the contractor's head and a revolver was on the ground nearby. The night watchman told of hearing a noise, possibly the fatal shot, while a freight train was passing.

Baby Dies in Flames Which Destroys House

Aurora, Ill., July 24—(AP)—Carl Jean, four-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Weeks, was burned to death last night in a fire which spread quickly through the family's farm home north of here.

Mrs. Weeks was seriously burned and her husband slightly burned in getting three of their four children out of the house. In the excitement, however, they got 16-months-old Robert, who was rescued unharmed by a neighbor, Donald Hoppe.

The blaze was started by an explosion when Mrs. Weeks poured kerosene into an old-fashioned cook stove.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

CHRISTIANITY

A wise man will always be a Christian, because the perfection of wisdom is to know where lies tranquility of mind, and how to attain it, which Christianity teaches.

—Lander.

He who shall introduce into public affairs the principles of primitive Christianity will change the face of the world.

—Benjamin Franklin.

Christianity reveals God as ever-present Truth and Love, to be utilized in healing the sick, in casting out error, in raising the dead.

—Mary Baker Eddy.

Christianity is not a theory or speculation, but a life; not a living process.

—Coleridge.

After reading the doctrines of Plato, Socrates, or Aristotle, we feel that the specific difference between their words and Christ's is the difference between an inquiry and a revelation.

—Joseph Parker.

Christianity is the companion of liberty in all its conflicts—the cradle of its infancy, and the divine source of its claims.

—De Toqueville.

Bible Proclaims Economy of Plenty, Prosperity for Man's Enrichment

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D., Editor of Advance

Ever since 1919 the story of Noah after the flood has been associated in my mind with a great sermon preached by the late Dr. Charles E. Jefferson. It was during the meeting of the National Congregational Council in Grand Rapids, Mich., and the sermon was at a noon-day service in a local theater. Already, a year after the armistice, there was evidence of the extent to which the nations that had won the first World War were in many respects losing the peace. The high ideals of democracy and peace were being betrayed by selfish interests, and statesmen were being dominated by motives of revenge and of power politics.

Dr. Jefferson likened the post-war world, with its opportunity of rebuilding, to the situation of Noah after the flood. With the brilliant word imagery of which he was a master, he pictured the world with all the old debris and barriers washed away, everything favorable for a new beginning in a clean world. But in that day of opportunity Noah got drunk!

How tragically that story has been repeated in human history! Even men like Noah, with elements of good character and with the favor of the Almighty, have failed in the day of opportunity, setting back again and again the cause of human progress.

Yet, this dark picture is not the outstanding thing in the story of Noah. In the midst of much that reflects ancient ideas, our lesson brings strongly before us the supreme fact of human opportunity and the supreme hope of achievement and progress. This is found both the morning and evening service.

Each Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock the mid-week Bible study and prayer service is conducted, followed by Senior choir rehearsal.

A glad hand invites you to worship here.

in the lesson in the emphasis upon God's covenant with man. What is the nature of that covenant? Is it some edict of privilege and grace pertaining to certain individuals or to a particular time? Men have tried to limit it to that, but God's covenant with man is as large as it is permanent.

It is a covenant for man's welfare and enrichment. The Bible in almost all of its pages proclaims the economy of abundance and prosperity. These are associated with peace and righteousness in the ancient world, as in our modern world, too often prosperity led to forgetfulness of God and the betrayal of man. The false use of prosperity, however, should not blind us to the true and solid ideal of human welfare—only we ought to remember that there is no true human welfare unless all have an opportunity to share in it.

God's covenant in the lesson is represented as having its token in the rainbow. This may be an ancient accounting for a natural phenomenon which science now explains, but the fact does not alter the significance of the token. The rainbow is possible because of sun and moisture, and both are a part of that covenant with man that God has made in His eternal laws. That covenant is that if man will do his part, God will co-operate to insure a happy and prosperous life for man. It is the failure on man's part to recognize the covenant that is at the basis of so much human misery. Alike in nature and in grace God has made rich provision for human life. Will man some day learn to fulfill his part of the covenant?

and an interesting program has been planned. The mid-week worship will be Wednesday evening at 7:30 with the pastor in charge. Strangers and newcomers in the city will find a warm welcome at all of our worship services.

Forty-third Effort to Sell Railroad is Successful Today

Longest Receivership in History of American Railroads To End

Minneapolis, July 24—(AP)—Termination of the longest receivership in American railroad annals neared realization today as a bidder—the first in 19 years—was on the scene to offer a price for the rejuvenated Minneapolis & St. Louis Railroad.

Prepared to bid the minimum price of $2,010,000 fixed by federal court for property and assets of the road, Walter W. Colpitts of Coverdale & Colpitts, New York engineers.

After formal entry of the bid, the sale and reorganization program of the purchase must be approved by federal court, with a final hearing scheduled for August 21, when possible objections from minority bond holders will be heard.

The reorganization plan already has been approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and a majority of stockholders and preferred creditors.

Today's auction is the forty-third attempt to sell the road, which since 1935 has undergone a program of renovation under the guidance of Lucian C. Sprague, appointed that year by federal court as receiver.

Ironie Twist
Ironie twist in today's sale was the absence, because of illness, of Howard S. Abbott, special Master-in-Chancery, who 42 times previously stood, in compliance with the law, at the Minneapolis & St. Louis shops on the outskirts of Minneapolis and read terms of the sale to the four winds, only to postpone the procedure because of no takers.

When the reorganization chapter in the history of the M. & St. L., founded in 1870, was begun in January 1935, Receiver Sprague, who also is president of the road, immediately inaugurated a program of rehabilitation, including improvement of physical properties and aggressive solicitation of business that resulted in a steady increase in the road's traffic and gross revenues and profits.

The reorganization plan shaped under leadership of Colpitts provides for creation of two new corporations between which properties of the present 1,500 mile system of the road will be operated.

Minneapolis & St. Louis Railway Company will take over and own lines east and south of Minneapolis and Hopkins, to Albert Lea, Minn., thence to Peoria, Ill., and Des Moines, Iowa.

Minneapolis & St. Louis Railroad Corporation will own lines west of Hopkins to Winthrop, Minn., to Aberdeen and Leola, S. D., and south from Winthrop to Fort Dodge, Iowa.

M. & St. L. Railway Company will operate both roads and also will control the Corporation through ownership of stock, as provided in the reorganization plan.
